Safe Harbor Statement

Certain statements and assumptions in these materials contain or are based on "forward-looking" information and involve risks and uncertainties. Such statements are subject to numerous assumptions and uncertainties, many of which are outside the company's control. These include governmental regulatory processes, the company's ability to complete the acquisition of TRW, to successfully integrate the operations of TRW, to complete the announced sale of the TRW automotive sector, assumptions with respect to future revenues, expected program performance, cash flows, and returns on pension plan assets, the outcome of contingencies including litigation, environmental remediation, divestitures of businesses, the ability to reduce the aggregate amount of debt carried by TRW and the company after giving effect to any mergers, divestitures or other transactions involving the companies, successful negotiation of contracts with labor unions, and anticipated costs of capital investments. The company's operations are subject to various additional risks and uncertainties resulting from its position as a supplier, either directly or as subcontractor or team member, to the U.S. Government and its agencies as well as to foreign governments and agencies; actual outcomes are dependent upon factors, including, without limitation, the company's successful performance of internal plans; government customers' budgetary restraints; customer changes in short-range and long-range plans; domestic and international competition in both the defense and commercial areas; product performance; continued development and acceptance of new products; performance issues with key suppliers and subcontractors; government import and export policies; acquisition or termination of government contracts; the outcome of political and legal processes; legal, financial, and governmental risks related to international transactions and overall demand for ships, military and civilian electronic systems and support, military aircraft, information technology and electronic components, as well as other economic, political and technological risks and uncertainties and other risk factors set out in the company's filings from time to time with the Securities and Exchange Commission, including, without limitation, the company's reports on Form 10-K and Form 10-Q.

DEFINING THE FUTURE

Northrop Grumman / TRW Financial Outlook

TRW Accelerates Growth

Transaction Uncertainties Materially Reduced

- Aeronautical Systems sold -- $1.5 billion
- Auto sale announced - $4.725 billion
 - Anticipate $3.9 - $4.0 billion cash proceeds
 - $3.76 billion initial cash
 - $368 million initial equity – expected reduction to ~$200 million with equity sell down by close
 - $600 million debt
- Strong Cash Generation 2002E
 - $1 billion from operations at TRW ($400 million from SS&E)
 - $1.1 billion from operations at NOC
- Execute tax plan
- Strong balance sheet
 - pro forma debt to capital ~25% by year-end 2002

Strong Balance Sheet Following Transaction

- Assumes share price of $100 per share and pro forma for sale of auto
- Includes B2 tax payment and TRW transaction costs

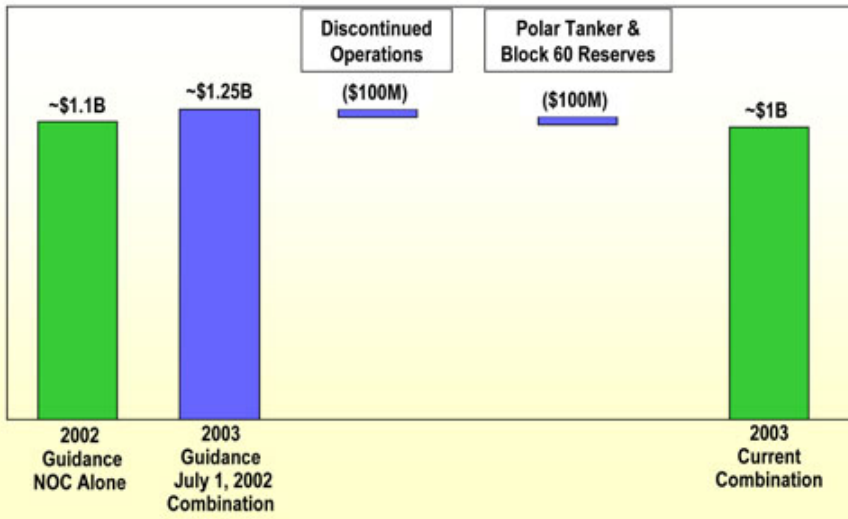

Updated Economic EPS Guidance*

- (a) Transferred from continuing operations to discontinued operations.
- (b) Reflects increased share issuance for TRW transaction due to decline in stock price from $130 to below $112
- (c) Increased margin due to recent NOC / TRW program wins.
- (d) Reflects actual auto sale terms and overall TRW transaction accounting assumptions.

* See Explanation of Economic Earnings

Updated Cash from Operations Guidance

FAS Accounting Does Not Drive Pension Funding

- Most NOC Pension plans still over funded
- Funding driven by ERISA not FAS
 - Different actuarial methods
 - Much smoother results
 - Less short-term market sensitivity
 - Better visibility of future funding
- Cash contributions are allowable costs in Government Contracting
- Recoverability method
 - Cost reimbursable: all costs recoverable
 - Fixed price: priced to recover contributions

2003 Cash Contributions Will Not Vary Materially From 2002

NOC + TRW = Greater Value for Shareholders

Top Line Revenue Growth

- ~$25B to $26B in 2003
- ~Double-digit growth in 2004 and 2005

Economic Earnings*

- 2003 between $7.00 and $7.50
- 2004 between $7.90 and $8.40
- Double-digit growth in 2005

Segment Operating Margin

- 2003 ~8.5%
- 2004 ~9.0%
- 2005 approaches 10%

Cash from Operations

- Approximately $1B in 2003 - before B-2 tax payment
- $1.5B+ in 2004
- Approximately $2B in 2005 and growing thereafter

DEFINING THE FUTURE

Northrop Grumman / TRW Wrap-Up

NOC Shareholders

- Greatly expands opportunities in high priority areas of a growing defense budget
 - Missile Defense
 - Space
 - Tactical systems
 - Intelligence programs
 - Information warfare
- Expands growth in sales, earnings and free cash flow
- Strong balance sheet facilitates shareholder value enhancement
- Demonstrated ability to integrate acquisitions and create value
- Management compensation aligned with shareholders

NOC Shareholders Should Vote for the Transaction

TRW Shareholders

- Will own 38% of nation's premier defense company
- Obtain financial strength to fully apply TRW technologies
- Gain top tier scale and access to platforms critical to the system of systems network centric warfare segment of defense budget
- Realize accelerated future growth and performance
- Avoid risks inherent in separation of auto business
- Receive significant transaction premium despite recent decline in auto and defense segment market valuations

TRW Shareholders Should Vote for the Transaction

Northrop Grumman + TRW = New Powerhouse

- Sustainable growth in defense spending

NORTHROP GRUMMAN PROVIDES UPDATED FINANCIAL GUIDANCE
TO REFLECT TRW ACQUISITION AND AUTOMOTIVE SALE

LOS ANGELES — Nov. 21, 2002 — Northrop Grumman Corporation (NYSE: NOC) announced today updated financial guidance with respect to future sales, segment operating margin rates, economic earnings per share and cash from operations in 2003, 2004 and 2005. The updated guidance reflects the proposed acquisition of TRW, Inc. (NYSE: TRW) including the initial issuance of approximately 70 million shares of Northrop Grumman common stock in the transaction, the sale of TRW's automotive business to The Blackstone Group and the effect of Northrop Grumman's discontinued operations.

In meetings commencing today, senior management from both companies will be discussing the updated financial outlook and the benefits of the proposed merger with sell side analysts and institutional shareholders of both companies. Special shareholder meetings to approve the merger have been scheduled by Northrop Grumman and TRW on Dec. 11, 2002.

The company issued the following guidance:

- Sales in 2003 are expected to be $25 billion to $26 billion;
- Double-digit sales growth is expected in 2004 and 2005;

-more-

- Segment operating margin rate is expected to be approximately 8.5 percent in 2003, increasing to nearly 9 percent by 2004 and approaching 10 percent by 2005;
- The company expects 15 percent to 20 percent growth in economic earnings per share from a range of $6.10 to $6.20 in 2002, to $7.00 to $7.50 in 2003. The company expects double-digit growth for 2004 resulting in a range of $7.90 to $8.40. Double-digit growth in economic earnings per share is also expected for 2005.
- Cash from operations in 2003 is expected to be approximately $1 billion (before a $1 billion B-2 tax payment in the first quarter of 2003), more than $1.5 billion in 2004 and approximately $2 billion in 2005;
- Importantly, the company expects pro forma net debt to total capital of approximately 26 percent after the close of the TRW transaction and the sale of the TRW Automotive business. Net debt to total capitalization is expected to be approximately 26 percent at year-end 2003, 20 percent at year-end 2004 and 13 percent at year-end 2005.

Kent Kresa, Northrop Grumman chairman and chief executive officer, stated, "We look forward to meeting with the investment community to talk about the enormous benefits of the combination of Northrop Grumman and TRW. This acquisition is the culmination of the transformation we began in 1994. The new Northrop Grumman offers shareholders participation in the growth of a new powerhouse defense company with outstanding programs and a strong position for the future. The acquisition of TRW and the sale of its automotive business strengthen our balance sheet and provide financial flexibility and outstanding growth prospects."

Northrop Grumman Corporation is a $17 billion, global defense company with its worldwide headquarters in Los Angeles. Northrop Grumman provides technologically
