NORTHROP GRUMMAN RESPONDS TO

DISTRICT COURT RULING ON TRW SPECIAL MEETING

LOS ANGELES -- April 19, 2002 -- Northrop Grumman Corporation (NYSE: NOC) released the following statement concerning the decision of the United States District Court permitting TRW to delay until May 3, 2002, the Special Meeting of TRW Shareholders which had been scheduled for Monday, April 22.

Kent Kresa, chairman and chief executive officer of Northrop Grumman, stated: "After Northrop Grumman received the Institutional Shareholder Services (ISS) endorsement for the Control Share Acquisition proposal, which was to be voted on April 22, we are naturally disappointed that TRW has deliberately chosen to put off the meeting for another 10 days. It is unfortunate that the District Court was unwilling to prevent this obvious delaying tactic. In any event, we have elected not to appeal the District Court's ruling since it would not now be possible to reinstate the Special Meeting without creating further confusion among TRW's shareholders."

"We hope that TRW shareholders understand that they still have the opportunity to express their wishes next week, at the regular Annual Meeting of TRW shareholders on April 24. At the Annual Meeting, Northrop Grumman will submit three proposals for shareholder vote, all of which provide stockholders the opportunity to send a strong message to the TRW board of directors in favor of providing non-public information to Northrop Grumman and entering into good faith negotiations for a mutually agreeable transaction between the two companies."

"It has now been almost two months since Northrop Grumman proposed an acquisition of TRW, and TRW has still not provided us an opportunity to review the non-public information which they claim would justify a higher price than Northrop Grumman has offered."

Kresa added, "ISS has recommended that TRW shareholders vote for two of the three Northrop Grumman proposals:

- . the resolution to provide non-public information, and
- . the resolution to establish a committee of independent directors"

"Now that the Special Meeting of Shareholders has been postponed," Kresa concluded, "it is more important than ever that shareholders return their green proxy card to vote for the Northrop Grumman proposals at the Annual Meeting on April 24."

Northrop Grumman Corporation is an $18 billion, global defense company with its worldwide headquarters in Los Angeles.
